

PENTECOST 2015

Fees

Behold is a faith based ministry and so has no set fee structure. However it is Steve's full time ministry and so there is an expectation for travel expenses and a ministry gift to enable Steve to minister whilst providing for his family. This is Steve's only source of income. As a rough guide an average gift to Steve would be £250-£300 (per booking) plus travel expenses. £400 GBP for a whole weekend. If the booking covers several days i.e. a mission or conference then we suggest £150 per day plus expenses.

Travel expenses are based on the current Inland Revenue rate of £0.40 pence per mile so please use this rate as a guide.

The bottom line is most churches understand living by faith and give generously. The above figures are based on average gifts and are not demands but purely to help churches or events that are not familiar with itinerant ministry.

Technical and Performance area

Steve performs to backing tracks in MP3 format which he will bring to each booking. Steve can provide his own P.A system if the venue does not have one. The performance area will always bring better results if raised. Mime is a full body art-form and so if only the waist up can be seen because of low elevation, then half the impact will be lost. Steve works on all levels including lying down. If no raised staging is available then careful consideration of seating would be essential. Also for best results Steve needs a flat working area of 4 meters wide by 3 meters deep. Steve can work on smaller areas but will be limited to what mimes he can perform. Please also consider if Steve is sharing an evening with a worship band, then adequate space must be provided.
